FOREIGN AND POLITICAL DEPARTMENTS

India, the 25th April 1925.

Government have been anxiously following the course of events in the Hedjaz in the hope that there might take a sufficiently favourable turn to make it possible for Indian Muslims to perform the pilgrimages as usual.

The main feature in the situation in the Hedjaz is that Amir Ali is in possession of Jeddah and Sultan Ibn Saud of Mecca. The question is whether pilgrims can get to Mecca, but it is believed that Amir Ali still holds Medina and Yachba, while Sultan Ibn Saud has captured some Red Sea ports including Lath and Bahigah. The port of Souda is in Amir's hands, in whose possession it now is, whether Sultan Ibn Saud's or the Amir's.

Clearly the carrying out of the pilgrimages by the ordinary route through Jeddah, blocked as it is by the opposing armies, would be impossible unless both Sultan Ibn Saud and Amir Ali agreed to a truce for the holy season. This was recognized earlier in the year by the Muslim press and religious bodies and warnings were issued by them to intending pilgrims. But later on they have been given a statement published in a Decca paper that the pilgrimages would be possible by way of the ports of Bahigah, Lath and Souda.

On this statement coming to their notice Government immediately telegraphed to His Majesty's Consul at Jeddah for all information he could give about the facilities for pilgrims at those ports and for the journey seaward. Before his reply was received it was ascertained from the shipping companies that they regarded the ports of Lath and Souda as dangerous for navigation and that at Bahigah only could ships of the usual draft put in. The information that His Majesty's Consul has been able to collect is that there are no facilities at Bahigah for the loading of pilgrims, such as telegraphic communication, or boats for disembarking the pilgrims; that there are no surplus supplies; that no reliable organization, which could not be relied on at short notice, would be necessary before more than one or two hundred pilgrims at the most could be dealt with at a time, and that even at Mecca it is very doubtful if the existing food supply would suffice for the ordinary numbers of pilgrim traffic. Without a thorough and arrangements for His Majesty's Consul fears that the risk of a disastrous breakdown would be great.

These are the facts that His Majesty's Consul, confirmed as he is within the limits of Jeddah, has been able to obtain and they are now published for general information. In a matter of moment Government have no wish to interfere. If Muslim religious bodies with the realization of the risks which these facts involve are able to assume the responsibility of advancing their own proposals to attempt to make the pilgrimages this year, Government will not object to the way. They will continue steadily to insist on the necessity of no interference. The allegations in certain papers that they have been restricting the shipping and stopping pilgrims for the Hedjaz are without foundation. Pilgrims for pilgrims are as a purely voluntary basis and there is no control of shipping.
